THE ART OF MEETINGS

3 meeting rooms were named after famous Croatian artists: Ivan Meštrović, Marko Marulić and Emanuel Vidović.

Ivan Meštrović was a sculptor, painter, architect and writer, and is one of the most prominent Croatian artists from the first half of the 20th century.

Marko Marulić was a Croatian poet and Renaissance humanist, known as the father of the Croatian literature. He was also the first writer to use the term psychology, in his work Psychologia de ratione animae humanae.

Emanuel Vidović was a Croatian painter and graphic artist from Split. He was instrumental in bringing the modern art ideas to Split.
